I declare my solemn support to the following principles of AIFRTE:

- The aim of education is to build a democratic, socialist, secular, egalitarian, just, enlightened and humane society based on diversity, plurality and equality.
- Providing education to every child and youth is the constitutional obligation of the state and there is no place in education for discrimination in any form whatsoever including those based on class, caste, gender, religion, language, region or disability. Social justice to the oppressed and deprived sections and the disabled should be organically built into the education system. It is the responsibility of the state to establish a well-founded nationwide, fully state-funded, common education system at all levels from “KG to PG”, including professional education and research. It implies, establishing a fully state-funded Common School System based on Neighbourhood School – governed in decentralized, democratic and participative mode which optimizes diversity.
- There is no place in education for communalism or hegemony – religio-cultural, regional, gender-based, linguistic, racial, or related to normal body – or for negation, dilution or distortion of India’s rich diversity.
- There is no place whatsoever for trade or profiteering, Foreign Direct Investment (F.D.I.), international funding and/or Public Private Partnership (P.P.P.) at any level of education.
